

The FEEL Project is an initiative to create and distribute a comprehensive French Bible study library that will include 100 key Bible study books in Bible research software format. The FEEL library will be a complete Bible study and ministry « toolbox » on CD-ROM for students, pastors, professors, missionaries and committed Christians in the 44 countries where French is spoken. ■

Harry and Kathy Walker join the FEEL development team, focus on training

Harry and Kathy Walker of CrossWorld mission have recently joined the FEEL development team. With the FEEL Project moving closer to implementation, theirs is a timely arrival.

Their work includes developing training materials that will help teach the use of the Bible software developed by FEEL, contacting learning institutions who will benefit from the FEEL and training other trainers to teach the software.

Their background includes 14 years of church planting in France, 12 years teaching at the Black Forest Academy in Germany and a year teaching in a seminary in Mali. It was on their last assignment that their eyes and hearts opened to French-speaking Africa. In 2009-2010 they will be involved in several training workshops there. First stop? Bangui, Central African Republic to teach the use of the Online Bible. ■

*“Keep up the good work!
What you are doing is much needed here.”*

seminary professor in West Africa

First FEEL Library CD-ROMs to be distributed in Africa in 2010

Along with SIM's Pastor's Book Sets, the first FEEL Library CD-ROMs will be distributed to 16,000 leaders in 10 countries across French-speaking Africa in 2010. Pray that production will be completed on time. ■

More African authors and Africa-specific literature is being added to the FEEL Library

One goal of the FEEL Project is to include as many of the best locally authored works as possible in the the African edition of the FEEL Library. Recent initiatives like the publication of the Africa Bible Commentary have been a great encouragement to African Christian authors. Thanks to FEEL's collaboration with evangelical African publishing houses like CPE in Côte d'Ivoire and PBA in Benin, the number of African authored books in the FEEL Library is growing. Andria Solomon's commentary on Colossians, The Pastor and His Problems by Paul Mpindi and Africa and Africans in the Bible are just a few examples. FEEL is also happy to announce that the French edition of the Africa Bible Commentary is to be included in the FEEL library in late 2010. ■

Tyndale House Foundation awards grant

The FEEL Project team is happy to announce that the Tyndale House Foundation has awarded a grant of $50,000 to the FEEL Project. We wish to publicly express our thanks for this grant which will allow for significant advancement of the project. The funds are being used to produce over 100 Bibles and Bible study books in the electronic formats needed for them to be useful in Bible software. The grant is also being used to fund translations of new books. FEEL is seeking an additional $200,000 in funding for the project's completion. ■
